

Financial Aid Available to International Students at National Taiwan University of Science and Technology

A. Eligibility:

- a. A full-time undergraduate international student, who has completed his/her previous semester with a GPA higher than 65 and gets no demerit in his/her behavior, is eligible to apply.
- b. A full-time graduate international student, who has completed his/her previous semester (carrying no less than 4 credits) with a GPA higher than 75 and has no demerit in his/her behavior, is eligible to apply.

A graduate student who is engaged in the process of writing his/her thesis may also apply; however, he/she may apply only one time. His/Her application should include a letter of recommendation from his/her major professor and a proposal for his/her thesis including the following sections: the purpose and motivation of the study, the design of the study, the sources of collected data, an outline of the thesis, and references.

- c. Those who have already received financial aid from Taiwan government may not apply.

B. The source of this financial aid comes from the Ministry of Education.

C. The amount of financial aid depends on the funding from the Ministry of Education and the number of applicants.

D. Required documents:

- a. An application form.
- b. An official transcript of the previous semester.

E. Time to file an application:

Two weeks prior to and after the beginning of a new semester.

F. Evaluation process:

- a. Applications are evaluated through the Financial Aid Evaluation Committee sponsored by the Office of International Affairs. Priority is given to students with higher GPA's.